

H-E-B SCHOOL of BUSINESS and ADMINISTRATION

Leadership: Growing the next generation of global partners

Issue 4

July 1, 2016

Real leadership is being the person others will gladly and confidently follow

Annual Conference

The CEPA Consortium is hosting its annual leadership conference October 27-28, 2016. The theme is Leadership: Growing the next generation of global partners. The conference site is the El Tropicano Riverwalk Hotel, San Antonio, Texas.

Journal of Collaborative Leadership

Dr. Meghan Carmody-Bubb is an Associate Professor in the School of Business and Leadership at Our Lady of the Lake University in San Antonio, where she teaches in the Leadership Studies Doctoral Program.

Dr. Carmody-Bubb holds a Bachelor of Science degree from Texas A&M University and a Doctorate of Philosophy in Experimental Psychology from Texas Tech University. Her areas of interest include conflict management, cognition and decision-making under stress, and the role of meaning in coping and resilience.

Dr. Carmody-Bubb is co-founder of the Journal of Collaborative Leadership, a refereed journal published by CEPA. The inaugural publication is slated for February, 2017.

Dr. Phyllis Duncan, co-founder of the Journal of Collaborative Leadership, is an Associate Professor in the School of Business and Leadership at Our Lady of the Lake University in San Antonio, where she teaches in the Leadership Studies Doctoral Program.

She earned a Ph.D. in Organizational Leadership from the University of the Incarnate Word, an MBA from the University of Arkansas, a Master of Science in Industrial Engineering from Southwest University, and a Bachelor of Science in Business Administration from University of the Ozarks.

Publication opportunities

Collaborative Educational Programs for the Americas (CEPA) fosters career aspirations by providing opportunities to publish in the Journal of Collaborative Leadership, first annual peer-reviewed online journal.

TCU doctoral students at CEPA 2015

CEPA encourages graduate students, faculty, and other CEPA scholars to publish their works and share their ideas on leadership. Two guiding principles — the integration of knowledge and the exchange of ideas — provide a foundation for that vision.

Integration of knowledge: Bold and adventurous ideas are valued in CEPA's ongoing effort to:

- engage scholars and educators from the fields of administration, business, community affairs, education, humanities and the social sciences.
- encourage contributions from all areas of human endeavor while preserving the integrity of each of the various fields.

Exchange of ideas: A diverse membership is vital to quality exchange as CEPA continues to:

- promote the interaction of knowledge, ideas and viewpoints,
- provide meaningful personal participation in conferences, publications and activities.

Honorable Ivy R. Taylor, Mayor, City of San Antonio

Publication ISSN number and guidelines

CEPA is interested in articles by leading thinkers and scholars. Publication is authorized under the auspices of the U.S. ISSN Center at the Library of Congress. Description and guidelines follow:

- Journal of Collaborative Leadership
ISSN 2472-9248
Library of Congress
101 Independence Avenue SE
Washington, DC 20540-4284
- Date of publication: February 2017
- Follows editorial procedures that include critical reading by at least three referees with personal and sensitive attention to excellence and integrity in research and writing,

Doctoral students & faculty, OLLU, at CEPA 2015

Benefits of attending CEPA 2016

- National and International Exposure
- Positive Recognition and Publicity

Fred Rodríguez can be reached at cepa2000@earthlink.net
www.cepa2000.org